TAG Present at 2010 Navy League Sea-Air-Space Exhibition, Booth 846

TAG Showcases Latest Rugged IT Hardware, Federal IT Services and Secure Internet Solutions

National Harbor, MD, May 04, 2010 - Technology Advancement Group®, Inc. (TAG®) is exhibiting at Navy League Sea-Air-Space 2010 held at the Gaylord Convention Center in National Harbor, Maryland. The event features more than 150 defense industry exhibits and professional seminars with top civilian and military leaders from the U.S. Department of Defense, Homeland Security, Maritime Administration and the defense industry.

TAG's Tactical Systems division will be showcasing their latest rugged servers & workstations, displays & keyboards, smart displays & all-in-one PCs, laptops & notebooks, ultra-mobile PCs & handhelds and integrated solutions. Offering specialized product development that begins with a strong foundation in mechanical, thermal and electrical engineering disciplines. TAG's highly secured headquarters in Dulles, Virginia includes a 35,000 sq. ft. research & development, engineering and manufacturing facility.

TAG's Technology Services Group® (TSG) representatives will be on hand to discuss global staffing solutions, information assurance, data center operations, and help desk services. Information solution professionals provide world-class contract, contract to hire and direct hire employees specializing in security cleared personnel. Some of TSG's current customers include DISA, USGS and NIST.

American Internet Exchange® (AIX®), TAG's division of colocation, data center management and wireless telecommunication experts will be available day two of the exhibition, May 4th. AIX features a new 150ft telecommunications tower, three colocation data centers and direct fiber to Equinex® strategically located with easy access to the Dulles Technology Corridor in Northern Virginia.
